

Jeffrey Dean Morgan joins 'Unblinking Eye'
Michael Bassett directing psychological thriller

By Scott Roxborough

February 11, 2010, 02:08 PM ET

Jeffrey Dean Morgan (Getty)

detective John Callisto (Morgan), now a retired recluse after being nearly murdered by a serial killer, is tracked down by a relentless journalist. As the two confront each other, dark secrets from both their pasts come to light.

BERLIN -- "Watchmen" star Jeffrey Dean Morgan has signed on with director Michael Bassett ("Solomon Kane") for the psychological thriller "The Unblinking Eye," which Juliusz Kossakowski and Kevan Van Thompson will produce through their Wind Fish Motion Pictures operation.

AV Pictures, which also handled world sales on Bassett's "Wilderness," is selling the title in Berlin.

Bassett penned the script, in which homicide

The pic, which AV said is budgeted at just over $10 million, is set to shoot in May.