

SCREENDAILY

Entertainment One picks up French rights to Comedown

19 October, 2011 | By Sarah Cooper

Kidulthood director Menhaj Huda is currently shooting the urban horror in London.

AV Pictures has sold French distribution rights to Menhaj Huda's urban horror Comedown to Entertainment One (eOne). Studiocanal had previously acquired the film for the UK.

Kidulthood director Huda is currently shooting for five weeks at Three Mills Studios in London. He is directing from a screenplay by Steven Kendall about six friends who break into the tower block they lived in as kids.

The cast includes rising Brit actors Jacob Anderson (Chatroom), Jessica Barden (Tamara Drewe), Calum MacNab (The Firm), Sophie Stuckey (The Woman in Black) and Adam Deacon, who starred in Kidulthood. Geoff Bell, who stars in The War Horse, will play a psychotic tenant.

The project is produced by Dominic Norris for Serotonin Films and Gareth Wiley for Phoenix Wiley.

AV Pictures are handling international sales.

Related images

Related Jobs

Sign in to see the latest jobs relevant to you!

- Finance Director
Competitive according to experience
- Distribution Executive Roles
Competitive
- Graphic Design Operators - Broadcast/Post Production
Competitive based on experience
- Experienced Producers, Senior Systems Administrators & TK/DI Data Wranglers
Competitive
- Post Production Producer
Competitive
- More Fantastic Opportunities in Manchester
Competitive

Find more jobs

